The Walk today, which started at Bruning and ended just shy of Gilead was dedicated to Joni G, Bill's sister who is battling cancer...best wishes to you Joni!!!!...We started going south with the last six miles going east, there were just enough snow flakes blowing about to remind me what latitude it is and what time of the year it is!!!!...the last five miles the sun was shining and the wind had died down a tad...when the day was over 21 miles (33.8710 km's) had been covered using 43,172 steps...findings for the day: 1 small Craftsman flat-head screw driver...wildlife sightings: several hawks that remain unidentified by me and an odd noisy blue bird, again, unidentified by me, guess it is time to get out the Nebraska bird book...I did put $2 worth of "skin" into the PowerBall drawing for Wednesday, HEY someone is going to win, it may as well be me, at least I will know how to best apply the funds AFTER the party!!!!...time to ice down various body parts and prepare for another 20+ miles Tuesday...cheers!!!
