

no fancy name...the eighth day of walking

Posted on Jun 15, Posted by Administrator Category The Walk Blog

The day started with clearing up a variety of house-keeping items, DISH, Verizon, CampingWorld, forgetting my shoes AND the map, all the unpleasanties of the trek!!!!...We then retraced my steps from yesterday to determine that I did 18 miles even (I was sure it was 22!!!)...today I only did a few miles 12 (maybe only 11.9!?) ending at the Dragon House restaurant in Aldergrove...tomorrow there are no impediments ('cept those pesky blisters) so I should get an early start and have the entire day...hopefully there will be a round of golf Saturday with Sunday spent "on the couch" watching the US Open (memories of Payne Stewart)...kudos AGAIN to my mother who is willingly putting up with my way (is there ANY other!?!?!?!?) of doing things...many, Many, MANY thanks!!!
