

walking days #28 & #29...technology!?!?!?

Posted on Jul 21, Posted by Administrator Category The Walk Blog

OK can't get Wi-Fi on the Mac, phone yes, Mom "n her iPad yes, the Mac NOOOOOOOO!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!...yes it is official I hate technology!!!...OK now that that rant is over (yes I held back!!!)...Thursday saw 20.8, of which the first 8 are straight uphill!!!, with 41,895 steps, compared with 40,797 over 21.9 miles, movin' today, not so much yesterday...booty from Thursday, two gold pans (one metal, one plastic), keys to a Harley lock (hope he lives in a good neighborhood!!!), a small pair of scissors with a bent tip (subsequently useably straightened) and a roll of black electrical tape!!!...nothing Friday...had dinner at the A Break In Time Caffe in Creston, they were VERY accommodating on our way to the coast to start all this nonsense and I said I would drop by on foot, which I did earlier today, prior to getting the game called because of RAIN!!!, got a wee bit this morning but the end of the day was torrential!!!...thanks to Doris at the A Break In Time Caffe for the very generous twenty, it will find its way to Habitat for Humanity...that said, thanks to all who check in and view this site from time to time, your encouragement is appreciated!!!...cheers
