

Walking day #60...Thursday, September 27, 2012...ALMOST through Billings, MT

Posted on Sep 28, Posted by Administrator Category The Walk Blog

a day of adventures!!!...made 24 miles even with 45,240 steps...findings for the day: 2 dimes, 1 rather bent penny, 1 quarter, 1 blue (yuck!!!) super ball AND a "Stiffy" (red triangular flag on the end of a fiberglass pole used on dune buggies)...we managed (to the chagrin of my driver!!!) to go through two constructions zones AND all the way through Billings...this was DEFINITELY out of her comfort zone, HOWEVER she did a fine job!!!...thanks Mom!!!...still having some electrical issues with the Jeep powering the safety light and blowing fuses, where are Mike 'n the mechanics from Family Auto in Bountiful, Utah when I could REALLY use them!?!?!?...good weather today, high 70's with clear skies...now watching Thursday football awaiting my pizza!!!...pick it up again tomorrow on Old Highway 87 on the way to Hardin, MT and beyond...cheers!!!
